Parasitism

By: Sarah Bacak, Hannah Wright, and Nadia SenczySzak
Parasitism

By: Sarah Bacak, Hannah Wright, and Nadia Senczyszak
Cardigan Welsh Corgi Facts

The cardigan welsh corgi's average lifespan is 12-15 years. Cardigan Welsh Corgis are especially good with older children.

Cardigan Welsh Corgis are highly intelligent.
Tick Facts

The thing that keeps a tick attached to you is its saliva.

There are two families of ticks, the Ixodidae and the Argasidae.
Symbiosis Between Them

The symbiotic relationship between Cardigan Welsh Corgis and Ticks is Parasitism. The Corgi is the host and the tick is the parasite. When the tick attaches itself to the host it sucks its blood. The tick sucking the dog's blood is harming the dog and this is parasitism. If you didn’t know parasitism is a relationship between two animals where one benefits and the other doesn’t.